FASHIONABLE ATTRACTION.

OROWING IMPORTANCE AND INTEREST IN THE EXHIBITION-OTHER INCIDENTS OF

There is a tired lot of fashionable people in Brooklyn this morning, but the general verdict will be that the "tired" came in a good cause. All the Success—Last indoor Ride of the SEA-THE WEEK. week the horse has been king, and royally has he held sway. The attendance at the exhibitions of the Riding and Driving Club has neen of a character to dispel any idea that the bicycle or any other method of travelling over ground would tue ceel in driving the horse from his place in the affections of men and women, and the contests for the blue ribbons of the tanbark ring were as spirited and closely fought as any attempts to break records or win trophies on the part of the wheeling experts. The shows of the club, of which this was the fourth annual, have steadily increased in importance and interest, and the effect of this is shown by the fact that this is the first season when open classes have been introduced and the exhibition kept up for a week. There was at first a little grumbling among some of the spectators over what was thought to be a meagre showing in some of the classes, but the horsemen, who are supposed to know, hold to the belief that a small number of really first-class horses makes a much more interesting exhibition than an overweighted class of only mediacre grade. Socially, the affair was the most complete kind of success, and everybody and their friends were present at some time during the trials.

Despite the attractions in the peighborhood of the blue ribbons of the tanbark ring were as spir-

Despite the attractions in the neighborhood of the Park Plaza on Monday night, there was a large attendance at the annual reception of the Rembrandt Club, which was given in the art rooms in Montague-st. Those who know how hard it is to get invitations to this annual affair will understand why it was that few of those who were favored with the coveted summons failed to take advantage of it. F. Hopkinson Smith, who gave an informal talk on "Some Bits of the Pict-uresque," was the chief attraction, and his talk uresque," was the chief attraction, and his talk was followed by an excellent supper. Among those present at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Carll H. De Silver, Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Dodge, the Misses Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. S. V. White, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight P. Clapp, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. John Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Morse, Miss Morse, Mrs. Dwight Richardson, Miss Lena Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. John S. The last general sociable of the season was given on Wednesday evening at the Lewis Avenue Congregational Church. A programme of attractiveness had been prepared, and it was interpreted by the church choir and the Orpheus Glee Club, unthe church choir and the Orpheus Gree Club, inder the direction of T. Merrill Austin, conductor.
The Orpheus Glee Club is composed of twentyeight young men. Their fine work was appreciated highly, as were the efforts of William Jacger, cornetist, formerly of the Marine Band; Miss Edith Hail, pianist; Miss G. M. Hollis, organist; Miss
Anna Bostworth, alto, and Wilbur Morris, barytone. Between the parts of the programme a halfhour was given up to social intercourse. There was a largely attended and interesting

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN BROOKLYN'S SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS.

SON OF THE CYCLE CLUB-CRESCENT

ATHLETIC CLUB'S SCHEDULES. The one topic of conversation in Brooklyn clubdom in the week just closed was the Horse Show. The home of the Riding and Driving Club held large crowds of spectators every evening, and after the exhibitions crowds flocked to the Montauk Club, where supper was served. The show was an unqualified success, and was a credit to the management of Colonel John N. Partridge, chairman of the Horse Show Committee, and his assistants both on and off the committee. The Cycle Club had its last indoor ride of the season on Saturday evening, May 2. The men were attired in white knickerbockers and straw hats, and the women were in white spring gowns. Miss Gwendolin Burris led the ride and Andrew Peters led the procession in the music ride. Other riders were Miss Helen Thornton, C. J. Turner, jr., Miss Anna Thornton, H. D. Turner, Miss Gibberson, J. C. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barnes, Mrs. Sartorius, Otto Sartorius, Miss Jarvie, W. S. Lewis, Miss Nina Jarvie, F. R. Morse, Miss Turner, J. R. Thayer, A. T. Aten, Lathrop C. Harper, Robert Perkins, E. J. Scrimser, W. E. O. Bebbe, Christo-pher D. Smithers, Carroll J. Post, jr., George K. Jarvie and John Wilson.

The Crescent Athletic Club's Cricket Committee has arranged its schedule of games for the season. On May 30 a match game will be played between picked elevens at Bay Ridge. A game will be played with the Boston Athletic Association on June 6 at Bay Ridge, and there will be two contests with the Germantown Cricket Club, the first at Manhelm on August 15 and the second at Bay Ridge on Sep-The league matches will be with tember 5. Staten Island, New-York and Manhattan Cricket clubs and the New-Jersey Athletic Club.

The crack Union League Whist team was defeated by a quartet from the Knickerbocker Field Club in the Flatbush Club house a few days ago. The victorious team, consisting of Messrs. Taylor, Tremaine, Hodgman and Driggs, won by a s of 18 to 4.

The Crescent Athletic Club members are busy with the long schedules of baseball, tennis, cricket, lacrosse and rowing dates arranged by the various committees. A number of recent college graduates, who won distinction on the ball field at college and in other lines of sport, will add strength to the various teams. The schedule for the baseball tournament has been arranged. The opening games will be played on May 16, and the last games will take place on July 4. The country clubhouse will be formally opened on May 23, Decoration Day will be observed as "Ladies' Day," and a programme of music and athletic sports will be arranged. A whist match between the Knickerbocker and Carlton clubs, a few days ago, resulted in a victory for the Knickerbocker Club by a score of 17 to 12.

THE RULE OF THE ROAD.

COMMISSIONER WOODRUFF SUSTAINED IN HIS ORDER BY BICYCLE RIDERS, WHO WILL SERVE AS SPECIAL POLICEMEN.

Park Commissioner Timothy L. Woodruff was seen last evening and spoke on the subject of Consul Potter's latest statement concerning the recent ordinance promulgated by the Park Department, confining bleyeling on the Ocean Parkway to the cycle paths. Mr. Woodruff said:

"I do not see how Mr. Potter can be so mistaken as to make the point that I have issued this ordinance in order to re-establish speeding on the Ocean Parkway when the very ordinance about which he has made such a fuss prohibits speeding as well as bicycling on the main road. I would ectfully refer him and all others who are interested in this matter to the ordinance as published in all the papers and upon which he passed criticism apparently without having informed himself of its contents.

"Every newspaper article and editorial that I have seen has been favorable to the position I have taken. I am perfectly willing to have the matter decided in the courts, and sincerely hope it will be done. If then it is decided that I have acted without legal authority, I shall be obliged to use what is my undisputed legal right, to reduce the speed of bicycling on the main driveway to the lowest possible rate, for I am determined to protect riders and drivers from scorching bicyclists and vice versa, when the bicyclists have two magnificent paths for their exclusive use.

The headlines of last evening's New-York papers call particular attention to the wisdom of my action, for they read like this: 'Many Scorchers Out!' 'A Number of Accidents on the Boulevard Last Night!' 'Magistrates Lecture Prisoners Severely, Threatening with Severe Fines,' etc. This is an illustration of what is happening on New-York's parkways, but will not be tolerated in Brooklyn under the present management of her parks and parkways."

There is something about a fire engine to invariably excite the enthusiasm of the juvenile population and raise their young imaginations to the heroics. It was so yesterday with the youngsters when they saw Enbling with excitement and going at full speed, the bell clanging and the driver cutting off sharp corners-then it was that the small boys shouted, and with the small girls at their sides, raised a great commotion, indeed. No doubt many a promising youngster made up his mind then and there to be a fireman when he grew up-to such an extent was his imagination fired. The men and women seemed to enjoy the spectacle hugely, and many of them had their first practical demonstration of the first steps that a fire company takes to go to a fire The contest was judged on a basis of speed in hitching up and getting away. The horses were fine specimens of saddle animals. The performance was given up altogether to fancy waltz steps and movements which the trainers had taught the horses. Bonaparte appeared first, and when the orchestra played a popular selection he waltzed about the ring in a most graceful fashion. Bonaparte was the darling of the women and children after that, and when they applauded he responded by gracefully bowing. The "showing off" of Black Hussar and Rob Roy was almost equally as clever, and so close, in fact, that Adolph Busch, of the Bedford Riding Academy, who was judge, took some time to consider. He decided in favor of Bonaparte, to whom was awarded the blue ribbon and the first prize of $25 and Rob Roy was given the yellow ribbon.

ARMENIAN ATROCITIES NOT REALIZED. CHARLES JEROME EDWARDS RELATES SOME OF

tions, returned to Erocklyn on Friday night, after a four months' sojourn in Europe with his wife. Mrs. Edwards's health, which was exceedingly poor when she left this country in January, was greatly improved by the journey. When in Rome Mr. and Mrs. Edwards attended mass in the Statine Chapel, the private chapel of Pope Leo XIII. In the course of their travels they visited Jerusalem, Cairo, Con-European cities. While on his way from Constan-The Building Committee is composed of Will's L. tinople to Athens, Mr. Edwards became acquainted with Francis Scudamors, the war correspondent of "The London Daily News." Mr. Edwards said yesrday regarding the Armenian atrocities, concerning which Mr. Scudamore had written much:

"People in this country do not half realize the seriousness and extent of the Armenian atrocities. When Mr. Scudamore arrived at Constantinople he Grand Vizier for permission to go into the interior. The Vizier was courteous and affable, but refused Scudamore got out of his hotel and went into the interior without a passport of any kind. Ap plication was made to the British Government have the enterprising war correspondent withdraws.

but Great Britain refused to interfere, and Mr. but Great Britain refused to interfere, and substitution of the condemn state of the condemn and says that country lost the chance of a century not forcibly interfering. He says also American interests have suffered extensively ravages of the Turks in Armenia. His view of the situation is that there will be more trouble in Armenia this summer—just as soon as the water weather sets in."

FATALLY KICKED BY A HORSE. Charles Douglass, a stableman, nineteen years old living at No. 192 Wyckoff-ave., is in a critical condition in St. Mary's Hospital, from injuries received by being kicked by a vicious horse. Douglass was grooming the hospital and the state of the st grooming the horse in Mulready's stables, No. Lall Gates-ave., when the animal struck him down with one of his fore feet and then kicked him until he be came unconscious. Several other stablemen went to the permission and even went so far as suggesting the offer of money to induce the newspaper men to withdraw. They went to Trebizond without the Grand Vizier's permission, but at Trebizond they the hope is expressed for his recovery.

The horse show closed last night after the most successful week in the history of the Riding and Driving Club. In a financial sense the club memseats and boxes brought $7,500, and there has been
